Engineered for Excellence

Having high standards means understanding that small details make a HUGE impact. Having world class standards means knowing which small details to focus on. It's what turns the ordinary into extraordinary. With our vibrant, state-of-the-art steel panels, Flandscape ensures your pool will be engineered for excellence. The drawings are even stamped by a professional engineer recognized in Canada.

Each panel is carefully crafted with an encapsulated, continuous stiffening angle, found at both the bottom and top rails. The sheer, brute force of this unique feature holds our contoured panels to a true radius.

All of our steel components are made from heavy, 14-gauge material, pre-finished with a powerful, anti-corrosion coating.

For maximum sturdiness and durability,

we have several different support systems to choose from

● Extra strength and rigidity

is provided with steel gussets every 24" along each panel.
